

“ The way out of poverty and hardship begins with clean water and sanitation: we can all help to make it happen ”

WATER IS LIFE

Water is essential for life yet many millions of people around the world face water shortages. Millions of children die every year from water-borne diseases. Drought regularly afflicts some of the world's poorest countries.

Over one billion people in the world are without safe water and over one and half billion lack basic sanitation. As a result, a child dies every 20 seconds from water-related diseases. For many of the world's poorest people especially women and children, water collection is an exhausting daily burden that saps time and energy. Tragically, half of all people in developing countries have no access to clean & safe drinking water.

Qaaf Aid works in many countries in Africa & Asia to help some of the world's poorest communities set up and maintain their own water and sanitation supplies, so that health benefits are maximised, communities also learn about good hygiene. Qaaf Aid works through local organisations using low-cost technologies that are easy to operate and maintain so that the projects last long into the future.

Qaaf Aid helps people build and maintain clean water systems – like wells, hand pumps, tube wells and pipe lines. We help provide the training / resources and communities make their contribution by taking responsibility for the operation and maintenance. The goal of these projects is to improve access to clean water and reduce the health risks of water-related diseases.

This is an urgent matter of human development, and human dignity. Together with your help and support we can provide safe, clean water to some of the world's poorest people

“We have made every living thing out of water.” (Sura 21, ayat 30)

The prophet Mohammed (peace be upon him) said: ‘Whoever digs a well, there will be no one who drinks from it amongst jinn, men and birds except that Allah will reward him on the Day of Judgement’
